

Charts Outline Town Government For Monday Night

The November membership meeting of the Greenbelt Citizen's Association Monday evening, November 2 present a lesson in civics which no Greenbelter new or old can afford to miss, according to Stanley Ostler, president. Two huge charts are in the process of preparation, one of which shows the various local departments and offices of our landlord, the Federal Government, and the other shows similar material for the town administration.

"Although the set-up is not so complicated when you see it on paper," Mr. Ostler told the Cooperator, "I think old residents as well as new will find the presentation Monday evening educational—it certainly was for me."

"By the way, did you know that the Town cuts the grass by the roadways and the Government mows the apartment lawns across the sidewalk?" asked Mr. Ostler.

"I hope the people will bring questions about civic administration and we will try to have them answered," he said in summing up the agenda for Monday's meeting.

New Entertainment Ready

The Entertainment committee which has presented "True or False" and "Truth and Consequences" at previous meetings is planning for group singing at 8 p. m. to open the meeting, and a social evening of games, folk dancing, and perhaps ping pong and bridge following the business session. To make the occasion more party-like, the committee urges married couples to attend. The new residents are especially invited in order to get acquainted with their neighbors.

Health Association Puts Moore on Board

William Moore was elected to the board of directors of the Greenbelt Health Association at the quarterly meeting of the Association Wednesday night. Mr. Moore replaces Curtiss Barker.

The change in the by-laws affecting voting by absentee ballot which had been recommended by the board was carried by the membership. It is now possible, by showing cause why a meeting cannot be attended, to obtain an absentee ballot which will have the same value as a vote cast in person.

The board was authorized by the membership to employ such auditing services as may be necessary to obtain a complete financial balance.

Nursery Co-op Board Re-elects Vachon

Mrs. Penny Vachon was re-elected president of the Nursery School Parents' Board last Friday. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Valmette Nelson, vice president; Mrs. Ann Hull, as secretary; and Mrs. Henrietta Barnhart, treasurer. These officers will serve for the coming year, supervising the affairs of the town's cooperative nursery school, for 3- and 4-year-olds.

A Hallowe'en party planned by the mothers was held for the boys and girls this morning.

Publishing Association

Five directors for the next year were named Wednesday night at the annual meeting of the Greenbelt Cooperative Publishing Association, Incorporated. Re-elected are Phil Wexler and Donald H. Cooper. New directors are Waldo Mott, Bill Moore, and Morris Terkeltaub.

Directors will pick their own officers, and be responsible for the publishing of the Cooperator during their term of office.

At the meeting, held in the Cooperator office, the financial report for the last year was accepted, final draft of the by-laws was approved, and the date of the Cooperator dinner announced as November 14.

Second Defense Mass Meeting For Greenbelt Is November 15

November 15 is the date selected for the next Civilian Defense mass meeting in Greenbelt.

In announcing the date Commander Arthur Rysticken made it clear that all residents are requested to attend and that all Civilian Defense workers are required to be present. Admission will be free, but each person will invest in a 25 cent War Stamp at the door in lieu of an admission ticket.

Guidance Authority Speaks Here Sunday

Dr. Harold C. Hand of the College of Education at the University of Maryland has been secured as speaker for this week's Sunday evening meeting being sponsored by the Community Church.

Dr. Hand's topic will be "What the War is Doing to Education."

The speaker is one of the country's foremost authorities on educational guidance. In addition to his regular classes at the University of Maryland, he conducts a class in guidance at Columbia University on Saturdays.

Dr. Hand has been with the nearby University for three years. He came to this section of the country from Stanford University.

During the past summer Dr. Hand taught a seminar class on student government, an outgrowth of which was the revision of the student government constitution at the University.

Reverend Johnson expressed the hope that all persons in the community avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Dr. Hand Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the Auditorium.

Fall of Nanking Will Be Subject

Professor W. C. Scharffenberg will give an illustrated lecture on "The Fall of Nanking" at the November meeting of the Woman's Club. The group will meet in the Athletic Association Clubhouse at 2 p. m. Thursday, November 5. Mrs. Arthur L. Rysticken, Mrs. Roy S. Braden and Mrs. Frank H. Donoghue will be the hostesses.

The Board of Governors for the club will meet at 8 p. m. Wednesday, November 4, at the home of Mrs. Leon G. Benefiel, 60-B Crescent Road.

Voters To Ballot Tuesday, Nov. 3

About 500 Greenbelters who are registered Maryland voters will go to the Legion House on Southway extension Tuesday to cast their ballots for state and county officials.

Listed below are Republican and Democratic nominees.

Democrats:

Movies on Program

Several motion pictures on aspects of civilian protection during raids will be shown as one attraction for the evening. More important, however, will be a general report on the progress made by Greenbelt's Civilian Defense Corps in these months of preparation. A number of important announcements will be made at the meeting, including plans for the town's second big money-raising rally. This time it will be a Victory Rally, scheduled for early December with another thousand dollars as the goal.

Chiefs Meeting Tonight

All chiefs of defense units will be required to attend a chiefs of staff meeting tonight at the Town Council room, 7:30 p. m. The session will be given over to outlining in detail the program of each unit in the local corps. Problems in co-operation and coordination among defense units will be worked out.

Training for all defense units is scheduled to begin at once, and all persons who have filled out applications for civilian defense work will have been contacted shortly and told when and where to report for duty.

Club Makes Flags

The task of flag making for official use of the Defense Corps is being taken up again by the Women's Club. Smaller flags will be made for emergency vehicles used by the corps. Materials will be purchased by the corps for these flags.

More volunteers for the rolling of bandages have been requested, and they should contact Mrs. A. Hamlett at Greenbelt 5556 between 9 and 12 in the forenoon, not at night as previously indicated in the Cooperator.

Town Council Meets Monday Night

The Town Council will hold a regularly scheduled meeting at 8 p. m. next Monday, November 2 in the offices over the Variety Store. Although the Cooperator was unable to secure specific information on the agenda, several matters of interest to the citizens were left unfinished at previous meetings.

Some consideration has been given to the possibility of operating the school bus only during inclement weather. Another major problem which the Council must eventually act upon is the proposed repeal of the present garbage collection assessment and the passage of some substitute tax, possibly a personal property tax.

Teachers Take Part In Annual Meeting

Greenbelt Elementary and High School teachers attended the Maryland State Teacher's Association meeting at Baltimore October 23-24 to hear the development of the convention theme "Our Opportunities as Teachers of American Youth".

The convention was addressed by Association President R. S. Hyson, Tasker G. Lowndes, president of the State Board of Education, and Dr. William C. Carr, secretary of the Educational Policies Commission.

Since the Baltimore meeting did not affect the kindergarten teachers, Alice Hitchcock, Doris Seighworth, Lillian Bloomster and Mrs. Alys Orban "observed" at the Bunker Hill and John Burroughs Kindergartens on Friday, October 23.

At the same time Mrs. Reba Harris and Mary Engstrom, Greenbelt librarians, attended the Maryland School Library Conference in Baltimore.

Tomorrow Night's Hallowe'en Dance Is Fund Raiser

Tomorrow evening at 10 o'clock Johnny Sinclair's 9-piece orchestra will start the music rolling for what the Citizen's Association promises to be one of the outstanding entertainments of the season.

The combination Hallowe'en party and dance affords the opportunity for merrymakers to come in costume, formal dress or street clothes for three hours of waltzing, jitterbugging and all variations of the fine art of foot shuffling Greenbelter's have up their sleeve. The Auditorium will be decorated in keeping with the spirit of the occasion, James Smith, chairman of the ways and means committee promises. In line with Association custom, the admission price will be 50 cents; tickets may be secured in advance by individuals named in last week's Cooperator or at the door.

Mr. Smith stresses the fact that this is the first dance of the fall season from which proceeds will be available for the treasury of the Association. "You citizens supported the Russian Relief dance," Mr. Smith comments. "We hope that you will give us a boost now as we need funds to carry on the regular activities of the organization."

Fun Assembly Uses Talents of Pupils

By Isobel Herwick

An assembly by Groups I and II titled "Hallowe'en is Fun" was given last Thursday morning in the Auditorium of the Greenbelt Elementary School—and it was fun!

Upon entering the Auditorium one found tables with cunning favors and placecards, pictures on the walls, and on the stage a large blackboard with poems and stories, all made and written by the children.

Patsy Dunbar as mistress of ceremonies introduced the performers. Mrs. Parper's group modeled costumes, each child telling how his costume was made. Mrs. Whittaker's boys and girls read stories and poems they had written. A representative of Mrs. Thomas' room read the menu they planned for their Hallowe'en party and another showed a map drawing of Greenbelt and the route they planned to take in the parade. The children from Mrs. Lekness' room told about the drawings that decorated the walls, and how they planned to decorate their own school room. Entertainment with songs and games was provided by the very "small fry" from Miss Leebman's room. Mrs. Gwynn's first grade told how Hallowe'en could be celebrated best in Greenbelt. With the playing of music all children marched from the Auditorium, Patsy's departing sentence still causing a giggle, "I hope the Goblins don't get you on Hallowe'en".

USO and Red Cross Get Party Funds

From the funds raised at last Saturday's "Tacky Party" the Woman's Club is donating $20 to the U. S. O. and $5.25 to the Red Cross to help fill kits for service men.

Town Manager Roy S. Braden acted as master of ceremonies for the party, assisted by Herbert Hall who kept the dancing and games going at a merry pace. Defense stamps were given as prizes for the man and woman and the four children who were judged to have the cleverest costume. Refreshments were served by the Canteen under the leadership of Mrs. Daniel J. Neff.

By EILEEN SHERIFF

Essential "in-migrant" war workers employed by Government agencies in the Washington metropolitan area who are not earning above a specified income level are now eligible to be certified for defense homes in Greenbelt, according to information received by Town authorities this week.

In this group are members of the armed forces up to and including the rank of captain in the Army and Marine Corps and up to and including the rank of Lieutenant (senior grade) in the Navy and Coast Guard.

All applicants must be certified by their employing officers as being employed as essential war workers.

The total family income for applicants must not exceed $2600 per year, except where both husband and wife are employed, in which case it shall not exceed $2800.

An in-migrant war worker is defined as a person whose employment in Government war work inside the Washington metropolitan area began on or after July 1, 1941 and who lived prior to that date outside this area. Also eligible are (1) those having families living outside the metropolitan area or living apart from the employee because accommodations cannot be found for them here, (2) employees now living beyond a reasonable commuting distance from their places of employment, or (3) those who are living in trailers, tents, shacks, or other temporary shelter, or under arrangements so intolerable as to impair efficiency. In addition persons are eligible who, regardless of date of migration to the Washington metropolitan area have been forced to move since July 1, 1941 through no fault of their own.

Prior to this week, only persons employed by the Army, Navy or Maritime Commission were eligible to apply for these homes.

Legion Will Hold Open House Nov. 5

On Thursday, November 5, the Greenbelt Post 136 of the American Legion will hold an open house party for the benefit of veterans in World War I and men in the armed forces of the present war.

This is a "getting together" for veterans and military men who have recently moved into Greenbelt, according to Commander Virgil Estes.

The affair will be held at the Legion Clubhouse on Southway extension at 8:30 p. m. There will be no charge.

Tobacco Shop Opens In Old Bus Depot

The Tobacco Store, Greenbelt's newest cooperative enterprise, is now operating from 7:30 a. m. to 11:15 p. m. under the management of Mrs. Helen Walls. The first week of business is reported by Tom Ricker, general manager of Greenbelt Consumer Services, to be satisfactory enough to justify the move which set up this separate shop.

Located in the old bus depot the new store handles the sale of newspapers, magazines, tobacco and smoking needs, candy in bulk or boxed, and also maintains a fiction lending library and a film service. These services were formerly available in the Drug Store. Additional eating facilities for use in the Drug Store are now waiting on approval from the War Production Board. Plans have been completed for extension of the fountain bar into the space formerly occupied by the candy and tobacco counter.

Also awaiting a WPB priority is additional shelving for the Variety Store.

Bus Shelter

These cold and soggy mornings see clusters of Greenbelt commuters hunching against the wind and rain along Southway. Waiting for the bus or for a ride in the neighbor's car this winter will be cause for a fine crop of colds and cleaning and pressing bills unless some sort of shelter is provided.

The improved bus station in the Shopping Center has already won the plaudits of veteran bus-riders who deplored the waste of the large bare room for so long a time. The bus stations at either end of the Greenbelt-Mt. Rainier line are now satisfactory. But for many residents along Ridge Road and along Southway there is an even choice between waiting in the rain along the route or walking in the rain to the Shopping Center terminal.

A shelter, however small, on Southway at Ridge Road would be appreciated. The cost would be small for what we have in mind, and its utility would offset whatever damage it might do to the scenic beauty of the intersection. This is a job for the Town Council.

Another shelter is needed at Branchville where the new highway crosses the car tracks. If current rumors prove true and we lose our Mt. Rainier bus service, then this intersection at Branchville is going to be a heavy transfer point. This is a job for Capital Transit Company. And if the corporation needs a little prodding—a community with a population of six thousand could make itself quite a prod.

WarFund Campaign One Year Ago Opens in Greenbelt

The War Fair which closes its doors tonight at 11 p. m. after a week's showing at the Uline Arena in Washington has shown the scope of the activities to be covered this year by the Community War Fund, successor to the annual Community Chest Drive.

The $4,141,000 being solicited this year for 120 participating agencies represents a great increase over former quotas, but for the first time war aid organizations are included.

Arthur Rysticken, assistant community manager, is heading the Community War Fund for Greenbelt. He is urging residents to sign up here in town if possible but does not expect to subscribe a large sum locally since most residents work in Washington and sign up in offices there. Town employees and those working for Greenbelt Consumer Services and the Health Association are about the only ones in the community who will be directly contacted here for solicitation. Mr. Rysticken pointed out. However, a table will be set up at the end of this week in either the Food Store or the Drug Store for those who want to pledge from here.

How Do They Do It, These Gals?

By PEGGY AND HELEN

Apparently, the one perennial organization, the one which never fails and never fades, is the ladies' auxiliary to the Church. And I don't mean any one church, either. Take the Ladies Relief Society, auxiliary to the Latter Day Saints, and the program they're having. Classes in Theology, classes in Work and Business, classes in Social Science and classes in Bible Literature. Instructors for each one and a real set-up. And all this and sewing, too! Plus home nursing! Why, it's as good as as a college education, only a lot more practical than many of them are. They're meeting, by the way, Tuesday night at 8:15, in the Home Ec. Room at the School, and it's Theology this week.

And what's the matter with the Hebrew Ladies Auxiliary, meeting Wednesday evening at 8:30, at 13-G Ridge, worrying their heads about the best ways to entertain the new residents of Greenbelt so they'll feel right at home in this man's town? That's neighborliness for you.

And how about the Women's Guild of the Community Church? Meeting at 1:30, Wednesday afternoon, at 1-C Southway, just to cook up an apron sale in December. Just in time for Christmas gifts. A lot of men I've seen washing dishes lately could use a new apron. Is it the designing female or is it coincidence that when Mama goes to work in the war effort Papa can never find an apron when he is confronted with the housekeeping effort? At any rate, I'll take an apron for Christmas, and I'm holding out for ruffles on mine. You want cross-stitching, Jim?

Just to let you know that the men of Greenbelt are doing something besides washing dishes, the Citizens Association is planning on a big turnout for its meeting Monday night, 8:15, Auditorium. Business meeting, of course, singing, dancing and, of all things, ping pong and cards! Husbands and wives are invited, they tell me. Think I'll take Hattie, and pay her back for that bruised shin I got from her the last time we sat down at bridge.

And speaking of bridge, did you notice in the ads that somebody wants to start a bridge club? Here's your chance, all you Culbertsons and Jacobys.

Comes Hallowe'en, with its dances. Most particularly, that of the Citizens' Association, Saturday night, in the Auditorium. And don't forget to take your porch chairs in before you leave for the dance. A neighbor of mine rescued hers from the Lake last year. It'll make it a lot easier on your friends, the cops, if you remove temptation from rollicking youngsters.

Community Church Hi, Neighbor!

"What the War is Doing to Education" will be the subject of the address by Dr. H. C. Hand of the Department of Education of the University of Maryland to be given at the Sunday evening service of the Community Church. The service will be held in the Auditorium at 8 p. m. Following Dr. Hand's address there will be cello selections by George Fair of the U. S. Navy Band, accompanied by his wife, and vocal selections by Miss Janette Neff of the "A Capello Choir" of the First Congregation Church in Washington.

Reverend Wilmer Jierce Johnston will preach at the Community Church Service Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock, using as his theme of the morning worship, "How to Get What You Want". The subject of the children's sermon that precedes the morning sermon will be "What It Costs To Be Stingy".

Church School classes are held for all ages at 9:30 a. m., special attention this week being given to adult classes. The Men's Bible Class is taught by Roy S. Braden, town manager.

At 7 p. m. the young people meet in two sections, grade school children under the direction of the Junior Department of the Church School and the High School group under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Irving and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stevens.

Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. the Woman's Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. William Neff 1-C Southway. Officers of the year will be elected.

Wednesday at 8 p. m. the regular mid-week services will be held, followed by the monthly meeting of the finance committee.

Our new neighbors this week are:

Sunday School Class Enjoys Hallowe'en Party

The Intermediate Department of the Community Church Sunday School held a Halloween Party in the social room of the Elementary School last Saturday. About twenty-five members of the School were present to enjoy games and refreshments. Mrs. Lillian Mitchell supervises the department.

OUR NEIGHBORS

This Legion dance that is going to be held on November 7 is going to be quite THE affair. Busse Ellis's 12-piece orchestra and his sharp-looking vocalist are pretty solid. You couldn't get a better time in Washington anywhere, so let's make a date for Saturday, November 7 for the American Legion Dance—hum?

If you happen to pick up your phone one of these days when you're half asleep, don't be surprised if all you hear over the other end is "ba-ba-ba-ba". Unquote. That's just what Mrs. Betty Wexler did the other day. It seems that she was taking a nap when all of a sudden the phone rings; up jumps Betty and grabs the phone off the receiver. Well, all she could hear was "ba-ba-ba-ba". Still in a daze she put the phone on the receiver with a "who the heck" expression on her face. To sum it all up, little 22-month-old Carl Fleischer of 2-L Gardenway happened to playing with the Fleischer telephone and coincidentally dialed Wexler's number. This generation!

Mrs. Milton Carson of 7-A Crescent Road and son, Albert, left Wednesday for a trip to Columbus, Ohio, where they will join Mr. Carson, and from there they will journey to Arkansas for two weeks.

George Bradford, 33-E Ridge Road returned last week from an eight week's rest in California. Mr. Bradford had a lung puncture and went to California two months ago to recuperate. He is feeling fit and ready to go back on the job after a few weeks. Remember, George; no more boxing.

"Bill" Nyhoff, of 7-D Hillside left last week for foreign duty. Bill is with the Navy and has lived in Greenbelt for the past four years. He is probably one of the youngest men to leave Greenbelt for the war.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irvin Lengel, 34-E Ridge Road, ask us to express their appreciation to the high school principal and teachers and to Miss Ceceli Strickland in their kindness shown during the illness of Mary Elizabeth Lengel.

On March 25, a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kermit Stickler, 39-E Ridge Road, at Georgetown Hospital, Washington. Little Thomas Allen must be a thriving youngster now.

A daughter, Nancy Lee, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Earl Olson, 1-E Westway, at Columbia Hospital, Washington on September 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Judd Snapp, 40-D Crescent Road, are the proud parents of a baby girl, Carolyn, born October 10 at Homeopathic Hospital, Washington.

On October 12, a daughter, Sandra Lynn, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Owen Davis, 10-B Southway, at Warren Hospital, Laurel, Maryland.

P-T. A. Calls Off Meeting

Due to the elections being held next Tuesday, the High School Parent-Teacher Association will not have its regular scheduled meeting for that date. C. Paul Barnhart, principal, said that the date for the next meeting will be announced later.

Packers Win Again; Defeat Berwyn 13-6 In Local Contest

The Greenbelt Athletic Club has a 49 starred Service Flag! That means six men have gone in the armed services of our country since the last regular monthly meeting.

A young lady currently burning up the bowling alleys is Mrs. Hilda Lastner. Her average for 18 games is 106.4 and she holds the lead with a 368 high set, 130 high game and has clipped out the most spares with 35. Slightly better than RED HOT!

Paul Barnhart, Greenbelt High's principal, pitched three soft-games two of which he won, to help the Reps along their championship trail. He pitched a one-hitter, the one bingle a homer, and was trimmed 1 to 0 in his other effort.

Some one called him the "rowdie boy" of the men's gym class last Thursday night.

The Greenbelt High School basketball Grizzlies are beginning to shape up after two week's drill for Coach Ben Goldfaden. Several new boys are putting in their licks to make the squad. So far, the work of Mahlen Eshbaugh, Donnie Brewer, Jim Scordellis, Danny Jones and Dickie Palmer has been outstanding.

Mr. Barnhart announces that the Charlotte Hall Military Academy courtsters have been dickering for a home and home series with our boys.

With Eastern, Central and Gonzaga due to appear locally along with the county teams, an interesting schedule is in the making.

It is quite apparent, by now, that young Danny Jones is some punkins as a footballer. The hard running backfield star has scored 5 out of the 6 touchdowns for the Packers. Dickie Day Counted the other one.

Sunday's tussle with Berwyn didn't hurt anyone's opinion of Joe Cashman's either. The Redhead's passing and line-bucking was of high order.

Cashman's 20 yard aerial to Dickie Palmer, in the waning minutes of the game, set up the clinching score. Jones outsped the entire Berwyn squad around his right end on the 8 yard "insurance" touchdown.

Bob "Meek" Sommers played a great defensive game and made a number of yard saving tackles.

Plans are being formulated to have a 4 or 6 team Prince Georges County Amateur Basketball League with the local gym host to all games!

Diseased Animals Near New Defense Homes

Parents in Greenbelt are urged to warn their children not to trespass on Beltsville property, some of which borders on town property next to the area where defense houses have been constructed.

Some diseased animals which are under observation at the research station are allowed to roam in these fields and direct contact with these animals might be harmful to the children.

After School Activities Now In Gymnasium

With the coming of the rains this past week, Ben Goldfaden and Davis Armstrong found it necessary to move the outdoor recreational activities for children inside. The following classes have been scheduled for them: Tumbling for girls of the Elementary School on Mondays. Second and third grade boys and girls will have games on Tuesdays; on Wednesdays 6th and 7th grade girls will have gym; on Thursdays 6th and 7th grade boys will have gym and on Fridays 4th and 5th grade girls and boys will have gym. All these classes are from 3:15 to 4:15. The high school basketball teams will use the gym at 4:15 p. m. daily, the boys will practice on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The girls will practice on Tuesdays and Thursdays. These classes are all held in the Auditorium of the Elementary School and are for residents of Greenbelt of school age.

The following schedule has been opened for Saturdays: 9-9:45 the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th grade girls; 9:45 - 10:45 the high school and 6th and 7th grade girls; 10:45 - 11:15 the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th grade boys; 11:15-12 the 5th, 6th, and 7th grade boys.; 12-1 high school boys.

Athletic Clubhouse Open for Hallowe'en

The Greenbelt Athletic Club will have a Hallowe'en party and dance tomorrow night in the Clubhouse below the tennis courts.

Members and guests are promised an excellent program by President Les Sanders who has appointed a special committee for the purpose. Music and refreshments will be available.

The party will begin about 9 o'clock.

New Course Offered

A new tuition-free War Training course on Engineering Contracts and Specifications, open to both men and women, will be offered by the University of Maryland at College Park beginning November 5, it was announced today by Dean S. S. Steinberg, head of the College of Engineering.

The purpose of the course is to give practical training in the preparation of war and industrial contracts and specifications for persons now engaged in war industries and those who plan to enter such work.

The course will last twelve weeks with evening sessions twice a week. The qualifications for admission are two years of college training and a background of experience in engineering or industry, or the equivalent of these qualifications.

Application blanks and requests for information should be addressed to Dean S. S. Steinberg at the University of Maryland, College Park.

Lastner Is High In Bowling League

The local women's bowling league has been progressing in great style with the Lustine Nicholson leading the pack, having 13 wins against 5 defeats. However, the B. D. L.'s, G. P. Iverson and the Raiders are keeping the leaders worried with 11 wins against 5 losses.

Up to date the individual awards seem to go rather exclusively to Lastner with Sansone running a close second. Lastner has individual high game 130, high set 368 and high average 106.4.

IT'S A BIT HARD TO FIND THESE DAYS ----
but it's worth waiting for!

What with war time curtailment, there just isn't enough National Bohemian bottled beer to go around—but what there is, is mighty, mighty good. Our trucks don't supply your dealer so often these days—generally they get around only once a week. A good idea is to tell your dealer to save you half a dozen bottles or so from his next delivery. Then in between, you'll find scores of taverns, many of them quite conveniently near you, where you may enjoy National Bohemian on draft.

NATIONAL Bohemian BEER

Brewed and bottled by The National Brewing Company of Baltimore, Maryland who also brew the coast to coast favorite National Premium Beer.

Beaton Plea Is Greater Growth In Cooperatives

Addressing a disappointingly small audience of not more than 100 persons at the quarterly meeting of the Greenbelt Consumers Services, Inc., Monday night, Neal S. Beaton, president of the Scottish Cooperative Wholesale Society, emphatically stated that this war was not being fought to reestablish the old economic system of free trade and private profit. He appealed for universal membership in cooperatives as one of the best guarantees against future wars.

Mr. Beaton stated that he had been in 22 states since coming to this country to address the National Cooperative Congress in Minneapolis, Minnesota, on September 29, and had made speeches almost every night of his visit here, but this was the first time he had attended a business meeting of a cooperative society, all the other occasions having been public gatherings. He expressed his happiness at being privileged to observe the interest with which the members settled the details of the operation of their organization.

Likes Cooperative Communities

Communities like Greenbelt, he felt, ought to be more widespread—cooperative communities which should learn to do things for themselves, and not depend on others to do things for them. He cited several instances in Scotland where communities had made themselves practically economically independent by learning to run their own business affairs.

The Scottish Cooperative Wholesale Society, Mr. Beaton said, operated the largest soap factory in Scotland, and ran factories making almost everything its members needed. So successful have these enterprises been, that the society has been able to lower the cost of living in Scotland by selling to its members at lowest possible prices, often compelling private concerns to lower their prices accordingly by the force of its competition. Cooperatives in Scotland, as elsewhere, have been consistently fought by private business, but the Scottish Wholesale is looking forward to the time when people will be as cooperative minded that advertising will not be necessary.

British War Experience

Cooperatives in Britain have gone through three terrible years during this war, but now find themselves in a stronger position than ever because of the change of the thinking of the people. The British cooperatives, Mr. Beaton said, are laying plans to help cooperatives on the European continent to reestablish themselves after the war. He expressed gratitude for American and Russian assistance to Britain, and called on everybody to make this the last war, because now not only the soldiers but also the civilians know what war is.

At the close of his talk, Mr. Beaton answered questions from the audience, in particular recommending registering all consumers for rationing which is bound to be widened in scope in this country as the best foundation for a rationing system.

Dividend May Be 5.25 Per Cent

The business part of the meeting, which preceded Mr. Beaton's presentation, indicated that the financial affairs of the Greenbelt cooperative are in excellent condition. The total volume for the past nine months was about 50 per cent ahead of the similar period of last year, and it was indicated that a patronage dividend of about 5.25 per cent might be paid the membership, if the business for the balance of the year continued at the present pace.

In connection with committee reports, following Mrs. Linden Dodson's report on the work of the education committee, a resolution recommended by the committee was passed by the membership endorsing Senator Norris' resolution calling for an investigation of the national broadcasting companies refusal to accept business from cooperatives.

A discussion was held in regard to a bonus for employees of the cooperative, and President Francis Lastner stated that the matter had not been overlooked, but a question had arisen as to the legality of bonuses at the present, and the matter was being investigated. Howard Custer had moved that at least $1500 be distributed in bonuses in accordance with previous practices of the cooperative.

Stores Set New High In Sales for Week

Another record week of sales was chalked up by Greenbelt Consumer Services when the Food Store did a total business of $8340 for the seven days ending October 24. During this period all stores of the cooperative show a turnover of $15,147, also an all-time record.

Brownies Throw Party

Instead of the usual weekly meeting, the Greenbelt Brownie Troop No. 35, under the leadership of Mrs. Shirley R. Levine, held a costume Hallowe'en party in the social room of the Elementary School on Monday.

The girls conducted their own unrehearsed amateur hour while enjoying ice cream, candy and cookies.

Town Vacancies Filled

The accounting division of the Town Administration office has recently employed two new bookkeepers, Mrs. Marjorie English and Mable Candler. These new employees are filling positions which have been vacant for some weeks.

J. W. Rabbitt, Jr., is in charge of the accounting division, which is now located on the second floor of the Medical Center Building.

Greenbelt Chorus Open

To Non-Resident Pupils

Ben Goldfadden announced this week that the members of the Greenbelt Chorus are not limited to Greenbelt Schools. Any school children in grade 4 or over who wish to participate are asked to be at the Elementary School at 4 p. m. Monday, November 2.
